

Serial No. 10/084,473
May 14, 2004
Reply to Office Action

Amendments to the Abstract:

Please amend the Abstract of the Disclosure as submitted herewith on a separate unnumbered page.

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

~~The object of the present invention is to provide electrical~~ Electric equipment is provided for mounting on vehicles and electrical machines having superior rust-prevention film, which makes it possible to prevent vehicles from generating red rust even if outer surface of magnetic core housing of the vehicle is damaged by bouncing a stone and the like during running, and also to provide manufacturing methods of the same. ~~The present invention relates to an electric equipment for mounting on vehicles; wherein any of~~ Any outer surface and surface exposed to outward of the magnetic core housing is coated sequentially with a metal plated layer or an alkali zinc plated layer, chromate film or zinc phosphate film, and organic resin coating; ~~and a rotary electric machines using same; an electromagnetic switches using same; a starter for internal combustion engine using same; and manufacturing methods for them.~~